Skyworks Appoints Stan Swearingen Vice President of Cellular Infrastructure and Wireless Data Business; Brings Substantial Semiconductor Industry Experience

WOBURN, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Aug. 11, 2004--Skyworks Solutions, Inc. (Nasdaq:SWKS), the industry's leading wireless semiconductor company focused on radio frequency (RF) and complete cellular system solutions for mobile communications applications, today announced that Stan Swearingen has joined the company as vice president and general manager of the company's Cellular Infrastructure and Wireless Data business unit, which includes discrete and passive semiconductors, GaAs switches, ceramic products and multi-chip modules supporting cellular infrastructure and wireless data markets.

Swearingen most recently served as vice president and general manager of Agere Systems' Computing Connectivity Division where he was responsible for the design and manufacturing of wired and wireless connectivity solutions. Prior to Agere, he served as president and CEO of Quantex Microsystems, a direct provider of personal computers, servers and Internet infrastructure products. Swearingen has also previously held senior management positions at National Semiconductor, Cyrix, and Digital Equipment Corp. He fills the management position created when Greg Waters assumed leadership of Skyworks' Cellular Systems business earlier this year.

"We are pleased to have an executive with Stan's experience and knowledge lead our Cellular Infrastructure and Wireless Data business," said David J. Aldrich, Skyworks' president and chief executive officer. "Stan's skills, coupled with his understanding of next generation base stations and broadband wireless access technologies, will be a valuable asset as we build upon our already strong foundation and leadership position."

Safe Harbor Statement

This news release includes "forward-looking statements" intended to qualify for the safe harbor from liability established by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include information relating to future results of Skyworks (including certain projections and business trends). Forward-looking statements can often be identified by words such as "anticipates," "expects," "intends," "believes," "plans," "may," "will," "continue," similar expressions, and variations or negatives of these words. All such statements are subject to certain risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially and adversely from those projected, and may affect our future operating results, financial position and cash flows.

These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to: global economic and market conditions, such as the cyclical nature of the semiconductor industry and the markets addressed by the company's and its customers' products; demand for and market acceptance of new and existing products; the ability to develop, manufacture and market innovative products in a rapidly changing technological environment; the ability to compete with products and prices in an intensely competitive industry; product obsolescence; losses or curtailments of purchases from key customers or the timing of customer inventory adjustments; the timing of new product introductions; the availability and extent of utilization of raw materials, critical manufacturing equipment and manufacturing capacity; pricing pressures and other competitive factors; changes in product mix; fluctuations in manufacturing yields; the ability to continue to grow and maintain an intellectual property portfolio and obtain needed licenses from third parties; the ability to attract and retain qualified personnel; labor relations of the company, its customers and suppliers; economic, social and political conditions in the countries in which Skyworks, its customers or its suppliers operate, including health and security risks, possible disruptions in transportation networks and fluctuations in foreign currency exchange rates; and the uncertainties of litigation, as well as other risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to those detailed from time to time in the company's Securities and Exchange Commission filings.

These forward-looking statements are made only as of the date hereof, and the company undertakes no obligation to update or revise the forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise.
